Peace activist Christine Ahn organized a 2015 peace walk through the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea, marking the 70th year since Korea was divided. She is a policy analyst with expertise in Korea, globalization, militarism, women’s rights and philanthropy. She is co-founder of the Korea Policy Institute (KPI), National Campaign to End the Korean War, and Korean Americans for Fair Trade and is Senior Fellow with the Oakland Institute.

Presented by Christine Ahn

Thursday, April 7th
7:00 p.m.
Central Michigan University
Park Library Auditorium

Open to the public.
chsbs.cmich.edu/abel

Peace activist Christine Ahn organized a 2015 peace walk through the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea, marking the 70th year since Korea was divided.

She is a policy analyst with expertise in Korea, globalization, militarism, women’s rights and philanthropy. She is co-founder of the Korea Policy Institute (KPI), National Campaign to End the Korean War, and Korean Americans for Fair Trade and is Senior Fellow with the Oakland Institute.

The Dr. Harold Abel Endowed Lecture Series in the Study of Dictatorship, Democracy and Genocide brings to campus distinguished scholars to discuss the impact of worldwide genocide and historical events such as the Holocaust and mass murders in Africa, Southeast Asia, and Central America. The series was established by the Abel Family in 2009 to honor and memorialize Dr. Abel’s career as an educator, which included a 10-year term as president of Central Michigan University from 1975 to 1985. Dr. Abel passed away in 2002.