Why the Germans? Why the Jews?

The Perennial Holocaust Question

The Dr. Harold Abel Endowed Lecture Series in the Study of Dictatorship, Democracy and Genocide

Presented by
Steven Aschheim

Tuesday, November 17th
7:00 p.m.
Central Michigan University
Bovee U.C. Auditorium

Open to the public.
chsbs.cmich.edu/abel

Steven E. Aschheim is a Professor Emeritus of Cultural and Intellectual History at Hebrew University, Jerusalem. The author of numerous books on German and Jewish history over the last 30 years, his writing regularly appears in publications such as The Times Literary Supplement and Ha’aretz. He has held visiting professorships at such schools as Columbia, the University of Michigan, and Trinity College Dublin.

The Dr. Harold Abel Endowed Lecture Series in the Study of Dictatorship, Democracy and Genocide brings to campus distinguished scholars to discuss the impact of worldwide genocide and historical events such as the Holocaust and mass murders in Africa, Southeast Asia, and Central America. The series was established by the Abel Family in 2009 to honor and memorialize Dr. Abel’s career as an educator, which included a 10-year term as president of Central Michigan University from 1975 to 1985. Dr. Abel passed away in 2002.