Master of Arts in Spanish

The Department of Foreign Languages, Literatures and Cultures offers a Master of Arts in Spanish. This unique program focuses on developing skills in the areas of language and culture of the Spanish speaking world.

Students in the program achieve a high level of proficiency in Spanish and become more deeply and personally acquainted with Hispanic cultures through their studies on campus and abroad. The program is accessible to those who already are employed and to nontraditional learners.

Degree Requirements

The Master of Arts in Spanish requires 30 hours of graduate credit:

- 21 - 27 credit hours of course work to be completed with CMU instructors
- 6 credit hours through one optional summer study-abroad program in Spain
- 3 credit hours through a comprehensive examination.

Course offerings vary each semester.

Credit values are listed in parentheses:

- SPN 610 Studies in U.S. Latino Cultures (3)
- SPN 615 Themes in Latin American Cultural Studies (3)
- SPN 620 Cultures and Literatures of Spanish America (3)
- SPN 630 Culture and Literature of Spain (3)
- SPN 640 History of the Spanish Language (3)
- SPN 650 Stylistics (3)
- SPN 660 Spanish Phonology (3)
- SPN 680 Study Abroad: Spain (6) - optional
- SPN 697 Independent Study (3)

After being accepted into the program, the student will write an essay (500 words on a topic chosen by the Spanish faculty) and will engage in a brief oral interview with Spanish faculty.

After course work is completed, the student must pass an interview in order to demonstrate oral proficiency. The three-credit Comprehensive Examination will be used to assess the student's proficiency in reading texts and in writing in Spanish.

Visit us online, at: cmich.edu/colleges/chsbs/FLLC/Spanish/SpanishMA
Primary Faculty

Maria del Pilar Chouza-Calo, Ph.D.
University of California - Santa Barbara
Medieval and Golden Age Spanish Literature, Theater and the Culture of the Counter-Reformation

Carolina Gutiérrez-Rivas, Ph.D.
University of Florida
Hispanic Linguistics, Pragmatics, Theory and Practice of Translation

Luz Marcela Hurtado, Ph.D.
University of Florida
Phonology, Spanish in the U.S. and Dialectology, History of Spanish Language

Mary-Garland Jackson, Ph.D.
University of Kentucky
Latin American Literature, Women Writers

Susan Knight, Ph.D.
The Ohio State University
Second Language Acquisition

Krzysztof Kulawik, Ph.D.
University of Florida
Latin American Literature, Caribbean and Southern Cone Writers, Gender Studies

Roberto Mendoza-Farias, Ph.D.
University of Arizona
Contemporary Latin American Literature, Latin American Cultural Studies, and Urban Theory

Alejandra Rengifo, Ph.D.
University of Kentucky
Latin American Literature, U.S. Latino and Caribbean Literatures

Norma Richardson, Ph.D.
Michigan State University
Peninsular Literature and Culture, Romanticism

Research Facilities

A computer classroom/library lab in the foreign languages department provides easy access to e-mail, the Internet, and word processing with spell check and thesaurus capabilities in several languages. It also features tutorial software emphasizing language skills such as pronunciation and culturally appropriate behavior.

Audio and visual laboratories also are housed in the foreign languages department. Campus-wide computer centers are also available to all students.

Park Library, with recently updated collection and increased access to electronic databases, provides state-of-the-art research facilities.

About Graduate Studies at CMU

Central Michigan University is a public, comprehensive higher education institution that is classified by The Carnegie Foundation as a Doctoral Research university. CMU has offers graduate degree programs in more than 70 fields at the master's, specialist, and doctoral levels.

Admission Requirements

To be considered for admission, the student must meet the general requirements for admission to the Central Michigan University College of Graduate Studies. For regular admission, the student must have completed an undergraduate major in Spanish with a grade point average of at least 3.0 in all undergraduate Spanish courses beyond the 100 level. The student must have an overall grade point average of at least 2.7 in undergraduate course work.

Apply Online

http://grad.cmich.edu

For More Information
Graduate Spanish Program Director
Department of Foreign Languages, Literatures and Cultures
Pearce Hall 305
Central Michigan University
Mount Pleasant, MI 48859

Telephone: (989) 774-3786

cmich.edu/colleges/chsbs/LLC/Spanish/SpanishMA
www.facebook.com/MAenespanolCMU

CMU
CENTRAL MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY