

HST 336: IRAN AND IRAQ IN HISTORY

Spring 2018 Semester
Tu/Th 12:30pm - 1:45pm
Powers Hall 201
Professor John Robertson

The course will explore the history [and archaeology] of Iran and Iraq, and the ties and tensions between them, from ancient times to the present. It will also cover the history of the West's relationships with Iran and Iraq as well as why all this matters, and how we got to where we are today.
