Session Descriptions

Early Childhood Development & Learning

EHS TBA | Holly Hoffman, Ph.D., Human Environmental Studies

Interested in working with young children? Come and learn what CMU can provide for the pursuit of your passions. Tour the renowned Child Development and Learning Laboratory School for children ages 3-5 years. Learn about Michigan's ZS endorsement for teaching in Pre-K through third grade classrooms.

Education and Human Services Residential College

EHS TBA | Jill Balliet, Director of EHSRC Residential College

Explore a living environment where students engage in campus events and develop connections with others who share a common commitment to enhance living and learning for others.

Interested in Teaching Special Education? Find Out What You Need to Know!

EHS TBA | Andrea D. Jasper, Ph.D., Department Chair & Dawn Decker, Ph.D., Special Education Unit Coordinator

This session will provide an overview of the special education profession, job outlook, and requirements for completing a special education major at CMU.

The Literacy Center at CEHS: Improving Reading & Motivation Using Readers Theatre

EHS TBA | Kolleen Homuth, Faculty & Coordinator of the Reading Clinic

Learn about the Literacy Center at CMU and find out about a technique called "Readers Theatre" that we use in our tutoring sessions to engage our students while building their reading fluency, confidence, and motivation to read more.

Pre Student Teaching Field Experience

EHS TBA | Mindy Keck, Coordinator of Clinical Field Experience

Find out how our teacher education candidates get experience by being in a local classroom, developing lesson plans, activities, learning strategies and classroom management in the semester before student teaching. CMU's innovative methods class gets students out in the field early with guided support from faculty and teachers in area schools.

STEM Education

EHS 134/ Julie Cunningham, Director of Center for Excellence in STEM Education, Amanda Schell & Margaret Bailey Education Career Teachers and Student Participants.

Please join the STEM Education Scholars and their high school CTE partners as they tell you about their project to design elementary school STEM lessons. You should expect to interact with STEM materials, learn more about the CMU STEM Education Scholar program and leave with some thoughts on what STEM is and how it could be integrated in a classroom.

Student Panel-Student Life at CMU

EHS TBA-/Current CMU-College of Education and Human Services Students

Learn about life as a student at CMU. Explore what is like to live on campus. Learn how students balance their academics, work and social lives. Find out about student organizations, internships, and study abroad opportunities. You will be able to ask questions of our current students about college life!

Teachers Networking

EHS 413 | Betty Kirby Ph.D., Interim Dean, & Kim Hewitt Ph.D., Director Professional Readiness
Teachers attending the conference have the opportunity to learn about Michigan Department of Education Updates, and have an opportunity to learn about the Professional Skills Interview that is connected with CMU's EDU 107. This will also be an opportunity for Q & A.

This session goes from 10 - 11 a.m. Teachers will have the opportunity to stay in the room until 1 p.m. for networking and lunch.*

Technology in the Classroom: Supporting Teacher Activities & Student Learning

EHS TBA | Jennifer L. Weible, Ph.D., Assistant Professor

Technology is embedded in education today. Both teachers and students use computers, tablets, and mobile devices in and out of the classroom to support student learning. Learn ways that technology can be used for communication, collaboration, creativity, and assessment. Examples and interactive demonstrations will be available!
