

If You Give A Dog A Donut

A Parent's Guide to Using an Experience Box

Experience boxes provide a way for children with limited formal communication skills to share in the experience of literacy while developing vocabulary and concepts. Using real objects or object symbols, children with emerging communication skills can explore, match, and share these objects as they refer to the story with others. Experience boxes can be used with children of all ages and abilities.

Recommended Lesson Plan

- Allow your child to first explore the items in the box, let them become familiar with the shapes and textures of the items. Familiarity is important for learning.
- Select If You Give A Dog A Donut on www.dbcentral.org – Or choose to read the enclosed book with your child on your own.
- Utilize objects in the experience box to have a conversation about the pictures and the words in the book. Allow your child to handle the object, play with it, learn, and come to understand the shapes and textures of the objects. See if you can explore them in some way with your child. Remember that touching the object together is a simple conversation.
- As you watch the “Story Time Video”, or read the book together, pull objects from the experience box as they are presented in the story. Allow your child to try to find objects that match the pictures and identify them by practicing the vocabulary. Mutually explore the soft dog and the donut, help your child build a pretend kite with sticks and paper (we will replace those items), play with the bat and baseball like the dog does in the story.
- Conversation starters
 - Did you like the story?
 - What did you like about the story?
 - What is your favorite object?
 - Do you want to read the story again?
- After the video is finished, continue to talk and interact with the objects. Communicate with your child about the objects throughout your day.
 - For example: Do you like donuts? What is your favorite kind of donut? What is your favorite color donut? Is apple juice sweet? What other kinds of juices are there? The boy and the dog play baseball. Do you like baseball? What else do you like to play?

NOTE: The objects in these particular boxes are all SYMBOLS for real items. If you can collect and provide the real items, your child will be more likely to understand the object representations and the concepts and vocabulary included in this story. For example, you can explore a real baseball and bat, go to a little league baseball game, or fly a kite.

A Note on the ASL Vocabulary Video

The vocabulary is presented by a native signer in a pure form of American Sign Language (ASL). Sometimes, two or more signs are required to capture the concept behind the English word. If you need clarification on any of the signs, please contact DB Central for assistance at dbcen@cmich.edu.

DB Central Can Help

Project staff are able to schedule a virtual meeting to help brainstorm how to use the experience box with your child and/or to teach them new vocabulary and concepts. Signs can be learned using vision and/or touch.
