Program Goals and Mission

The faculty and students in the doctoral Program in Industrial and Organizational Psychology are committed to learning, developing, applying, and teaching new knowledge about psychology in the workplace. Students are prepared to use scientific methods in their research, teaching, and applied work regarding individual, group, and organizational behavior.

The goals of the graduate program in Industrial and Organizational (I/O) Psychology at Central Michigan University are to:

1. To promote I/O Psychology as a science and method for advancing the effectiveness and well-being of people and organizations.
2. To prepare I/O psychologists whose research, teaching and applied work is primarily informed by current scientific theory, research, and methods.
3. To prepare I/O psychologists who are knowledgeable about ethics and use ethical reasoning in their research, teaching, and applied work.
4. To prepare I/O psychologists who respect the dignity and worth of all people.
5. To develop and publicize new knowledge.
6. To stimulate enthusiasm for the field of I/O psychology among undergraduates through high expectations and excellent teaching.

The Department of Psychology offers a full-time on-campus Ph.D. in Industrial and Organizational (I/O) Psychology. The Ph.D. prepares students for careers in research, university, or business settings. Graduates of the program are typically involved in research and in the planning, design, implementation, and evaluation of psychological programs in organizations. Examples of such programs include: employee selection, performance appraisal, training, management of occupational stress, employee surveys, job and organizational design, and organizational change and development.

Deferred Admission

Newly admitted students may petition the Admissions Committee for deferred admission. Granting deferred admission is at the discretion of the Admissions Committee. However, deferred admission is normally granted for no more than 12 months from the original matriculation date.

Policy on Degree Time Limits

It is the Program's policy that all course requirements for M.A. and Ph.D. degrees be completed within seven years after matriculation. See the Graduate Bulletin for details at <https://bulletins.cmich.edu/>

Financial Aid

Financial Aid is available to Graduate Students in the Psychology Department.

Types of Financial Aid

A. King Chavez Parks Future Faculty Fellows

Central Michigan University welcomes applications from aspiring graduate students whose career path is leading them to represent faculty in post-secondary education. The KCP Initiative is funded by the Michigan Workforce Development Agency and was started in 1986 with the intention of increasing the opportunities for Michigan's most educationally disadvantaged citizens to achieve and excel as future professors.

An in-depth explanation of the fellowship program and administrative handbook from the State of Michigan is available StateofMichKCP.pdf.

B. Assistantships

The Psychology Department's Graduate Assistantships (GA's) are primarily used for research and teaching. GA's are either full-time or part-time and receive a stipend with a variable tuition waiver up to 24 hours that must be taken during the academic year of the assistantship. Full-Time Assistantship covers up to 24 credit hours of tuition per year and pays a cash stipend.

GA's typically work for a professor in the department to assist him or her with research, course preparation, or teach an undergraduate course. Traditionally, the department's Executive Committee assigns GA positions to professors to support instructional programs.

Expectations for Assistantships: An Assistantship is like any other job. The assistant must perform satisfactorily-that is, in line with his or her supervisor's expectations-or the assistantship will be revoked.

C. Professor Grants and Contracts

Professors sometimes get research grants or consulting contracts. Most of the time they budget for graduate student assistants. Thus, students can earn money and often 10 to 20 hours of tuition by being assigned to professors who have grants and contracts.

D. External Grants and Student Loans

Foundations and government agencies often have grant programs for which I/O students may compete. Some of these can be quite generous. You can check The College of Graduate Studies and the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs for leads on grants.

Students may also get student loans at favorable terms. You can check into student loans at your local bank or at the Scholarships & Financial Aid Office. Tuition and living expenses at CMU are low compared to many universities. Thus, a modest loan may get you through graduate school at CMU. This is a good investment because graduates of the program can usually pay the loan back quickly and easily.

Financial Aid Decision Process

A. Purposes of Financial Aid

Financial aid to graduate students serves four purposes. It helps the I/O Program recruit new students. It provides a means of financial support to students so that they can concentrate on their studies while they are in graduate school. It provides an incentive for students to make satisfactory progress in the program. And it provides the opportunity for students to apprentice themselves to professors to learn about teaching and research.

B. Funding Students in the I/O Program

1. First and second year doctoral students have priority over advanced students. There are two main reasons for this. First, financial aid is used to help recruit new students. Second and most importantly, first-and second-year students are less aware of, and have less opportunity, than advanced students for generating income locally. Advanced students have had more time to learn the system and develop connections, and because they have become more skilled technically, they tend to be in a better position to find relevant part-time work opportunities.
2. Financial aid awards to first-year doctoral students are made on the basis of their academic track records. Thus, students with the strongest academic records are offered assistantships. Doctoral assistantships given to second-year or advanced students are awarded on the basis of graduate grades and satisfactory progress in the program.

To be considered a high priority for financial aid, students must be making satisfactory progress in the program. If a student is not making satisfactory progress in the program, he or she will be given a low priority for financial aid.

Satisfactory progress as of March 30 of every year is defined as follows:

- a. 1st year students – B or better in all courses; no incompletes (unless due to family emergencies or illness); evidence of regular involvement in research.
- b. 2nd year students – same as above; plus approved M.A. thesis proposal.
- c. 3rd year students – same as above; M.A. thesis finished; comprehensive exams finished.
- d. Good work record as GA or Fellow, if appropriate.

Comprehensive Examinations

The purpose of the comprehensive exams is to allow doctoral students either to demonstrate broad knowledge in I/O Psychology or competence in a specialized area.

The comprehensive format is open and is worked out between the student and two I/O program faculty members, who serve as the student's comprehensive exam committee. Typically, the comprehensive involves either:

A. An exam in which the student is responsible for a broad range of knowledge in I/O psychology.

OR

- B. An extensive review paper on an I/O psychology topic (that also involves broader questions posed by I/O psychology faculty). This review paper should resemble an article published in Psychological Bulletin.

Students can take comprehensives after they have completed 45 hours of course work with a grade of B or better in each course and have completed their M.A. thesis.

Ph.D. students must pass their comprehensive examinations to become a doctoral candidate in the program

Internships

An internship should be limited to three (3) months over the summer, and the student is expected to work full time on his or her internship. Longer internships or internships during the school year are not recommended. The director approves the internship site and the timeframe for the internship. Before accepting a job for an internship, the student should talk with the director and describe potential sites and job responsibilities. The director and the potential supervisor should confer before the student accepts the internship placement.

Registration for Classes

Students are encouraged to register for classes during Phase I registration to ensure course requests can be honored. The Psychology Department has no obligation to honor course requests when students fail to preregister and classes are full. In order to add a class after it has reached capacity enrollment, the department requires written permission from that instructor.

Requirements for Satisfactory Progress

Below are the criteria for satisfactory progress in the program. Students who do not meet these criteria may be dismissed from the program. Criteria for financial aid are similar but not identical; therefore, students should refer to the section on financial aid in the Graduate Bulletin to determine the criteria considered for awarding financial aid. <https://bulletins.cmich.edu/>.

Full-time Status

- A. Ph.D. students must take at least six credit hours per semester (fall and spring) on campus for their first two years in the program.
- B. If a student takes only six hours during the fall and six hours during the spring semester, he or she should also take 3-6 hours on campus during the summer semester in order to make satisfactory progress.

Grades of B or better

- A. Students should earn a B or better in all psychology courses and have no grade lower than a C; doctoral students must earn a B or better in all courses.¹
- B. All students must have a cumulative grade point average of a B (3.0) or better.

Adequate progress towards degree

- A. Students need to demonstrate that they are making adequate progress toward their degree. This demonstrated by progressing according to the Milestones described on page 10.

Failure to maintain satisfactory progress, ethical violations, and other inappropriate behaviors (e.g., plagiarism, destructive interpersonal relationships) will lead to action by the I/O Psychology Program faculty. Depending on the nature of the offense, actions might range from letters of warning to dismissal. Dismissing a student from the I/O Program is an extraordinary action and only happens after the student has been given clear feedback about the difficulties and had an opportunity to remedy the problem. Students always have the right to be heard and appeal disciplinary actions.

Continuous Registration

A graduate student requiring continuous and ongoing access to student resources (e.g., remote access to library, data storage on servers, email access) associated with a CMICH global ID requires enrollment in at least one course per academic year. Reinstatement of access to these services commences upon reenrollment.

In addition, a program/department may require a graduate student to enroll in at least one CMU graduate credit hour each fall or spring semester for one or more of the following reasons:

- Continuous registration is part of the program curriculum (e.g., student has completed the required coursework, but does not have an approved prospectus);
- Significant university resources (e.g., faculty time) are necessary.

The Continuous Registration credit (course 619) within the student's home department can fulfill this one graduate credit hour requirement. Regardless of whether the student has registered for Continuous Registration credit(s), the student must still complete the degree within the time-to-degree limitations set forth under the degree requirements.

(Approved by Academic Senate, November 5, 2019)

Leave of Absence

Requests for a leave of absence from the program must be submitted in writing to the Director. The rationale for the leave and the length of time being requested should be specified. Permission for a leave of absence requires approval from the Director. Students should be aware that the seven-year-limit for completing program requirements typically remains in effect even when a leave of absence is approved.

Thesis and Dissertation Committees

Thesis and dissertation committees must consist of at least three members. The chair must be an I/O faculty member. The first committee member must be from the Psychology Department, and the second committee member may be from outside the Psychology Department and must have graduate faculty status.

Thesis and Dissertation Proposal

A Prospectus for Theses and Dissertations must be completed to begin research on a thesis or dissertation. Students must complete the following steps for their prospectus forms:

- a. Email thesis/dissertation committee members to schedule prospectus meeting.
- b. Email Program Secretary to schedule a room with date and time of prospectus.
- c. Complete Prospectus Form online through DocuSign prior to proposal meeting.
 - DocuSign routes the form to the required signers identified by the student
 - Students will be able to track the status of each signature
 - DocuSign ensures that all required attachments are included
 - Automatic email reminders for unsigned forms
- d. Complete IRB application online at: ORGS will email you IRB approval.
- e. Attach IRB approval to Prospectus DocuSign form and click submit.
- f. After approval has been received from the College of Graduate Studies, you will be able to register for your additional thesis credits.

Students may not enroll for more than three thesis or six dissertation credits until the project prospectus has been approved by the department and the College of Graduate Studies and the College of Graduate Studies has verified the composition of the student's committee. The Graduate Bulletin (<https://bulletins.cmich.edu/>) outlines all University policies relating to theses/dissertations.

Thesis and Dissertation Research Support

The College of Graduate Studies provides small grants for thesis and/or dissertation-related costs. Please see the application for specific details pertaining to the use of the funds. The information for these grants can be found at the following websites:

Graduate Student Research & Creative Endeavors Grant: Grant application

Part-Time and Off-Campus Faculty

Individuals who apply to teach I/O courses on a part-time basis, either on or off-campus must be approved by the I/O Program faculty. Those who wish to be considered to teach graduate level (500 or above) courses in the I/O Psychology should meet the following criteria:

1. A Ph.D. in I/O Psychology or closely related field.
2. Recent teaching experience, particularly in the area he or she wants to teach.
3. Evidence of teaching competence.
4. Evidence of recent and ongoing scholarly activity (i.e., publishing). Successful candidates' research records should be equal to the records of candidates that would be on our "short list" for a full-time tenure track position on campus.

Graduation Commencement Ceremony

Students must complete and submit "Graduation Application" to the College of Graduate Studies, Foust 100. Doctoral students must also complete and submit an "Admission to Candidacy for Doctoral Degree" form to the Program Secretary who will then forward to the College of Graduate Studies before they can graduate. Students must finish all requirements for their degrees before they can participate in graduation ceremonies.

Academic Integrity Policy

Because academic integrity and ethical behavior are vital to an academic environment and to the development of qualified psychologists, graduate students are responsible for learning and upholding professional standards of research, writing, assessment, and ethics in psychology. In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. Written or other work which a student submits must be the product of his/her own efforts and must be consistent with appropriate standards or professional ethics. Academic dishonesty, which includes plagiarism, cheating and other forms of dishonest behavior, is prohibited. Ethical standards, as articulated in the standards of the American Psychological Association and American Psychological Society, must be observed by all graduate students. Allegations of academic dishonesty or unethical behavior will be handled according to the policies given here. Appeals of decisions are processed according to the policies set forth in the "Academic Integrity Policy for Graduate Students," which is published in the Graduate Bulletin.

Although no specific timelines are included in this policy, it is understood that matters should be handled expeditiously.

1. In cases where an instructor, supervisor, or fellow student believes a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty or professionally unethical behavior, the instructor, supervisor, or fellow student should report the incident to the Program Director.

2. The Program Director will discuss the allegation(s) with the person(s) making them. If the Program Director believes that there is evidence to support the allegation(s), the Director will notify the student of the charges, in writing.
3. In the letter to the student, (s)he will be told the allegation(s) and told that the Program faculty will be asked to review the allegation(s), look at the evidence, and determine what, if any, sanctions should be issued. The student will be offered the opportunity to admit to the violations, remain silent, meet with the committee to share his/her perceptions of the incident, or submit a written rebuttal to the charges. The student will be given a response deadline, at least two weeks in the future.
4. The Program faculty will review allegation(s) of academic dishonesty or unethical behavior. In any case where a member of the Program faculty made the original allegation(s), the faculty member will be excluded from judging the particular case.
5. If the student elects to meet with the committee to present his/her version of the events under investigation, the student may bring another person (but not a lawyer) to the meeting to provide support and advice.
6. The Faculty's decision on culpability and appropriate sanctions will be communicated in writing to the department Chairperson. If the student is found not culpable or if sanctions, other than dismissal or suspension from the program, are issued, this will be communicated in writing to the student.
7. If the sanction is dismissal or suspension from the program, the sanction will be communicated through the department Chairperson to the Dean of the College of Graduate Studies who will communicate the decision to the student.
8. If sanctions are issued, committee records will be retained for at least one year.
