Dear Parents and family members:

Welcome to the Central Michigan University family! We are pleased your student has chosen to enroll at CMU and be a member of our university community.

This handbook has been designed as a quick guide to answer many of the questions you might have regarding CMU and our student support services. It is not intended to be all-inclusive. We also encourage you to visit our website at: www.cmich.edu/parentandfamily. It has helpful stories and information designed for parents. We will begin sending you monthly electronic newsletters shortly.

When you need additional service or information on any issue, we encourage you to call us for assistance. You will find a directory with the telephone numbers of many of our campus service offices on the inside back cover. If there is anything we can do to improve and support your experience as a CMU parent, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Please keep in touch with us throughout your student's CMU education. We look forward to working with your student and doing what we can to help them be personally and professionally successful.

All the best,

ACADEMICS

After academic orientation, how do students register for classes for future semesters?

Students register for classes using Course Search and Registration, found in CentralLink (centrallink.cmich.edu). CMU utilizes a multi-semester registration process. In February of each given year, a student is able to register for the next summer, fall, and spring semesters. Students register based on an appointment schedule determined by the total number of hours they have earned at CMU and any courses in progress at CMU for the current term.

The class schedule is located in CentralLink under Course Search and Registration. It is important for students to meet with their advisors each semester before they register for classes to receive help in selecting appropriate classes for their programs.

How do students change their class schedules?

Students may use CentralLink (Course Search and Registration) to add or drop classes. Adding is available only during the set registration period. Students may drop with a cancellation of tuition provided they do so prior to the course's second scheduled meeting time.

Students will find deadlines and information on adding, dropping or withdrawing from classes online at (cmich.edu/registrars). If they have questions, students may contact the Registrar's Office at 989-774-3261.

When do students receive notification of grades?

Final grades are available on CentralLink (centrallink.cmich.edu). Grades are generally available the Friday following final exam week. The student's global ID and password are needed to access this information.

Who is eligible for the Dean's List?

To qualify for this recognition, students must have registered for and completed 12 or more letter-graded hours of CMU credit during the semester (this does not include courses taken for credit/no credit) AND have earned a semester grade point average of 3.50 or higher. The President's List recognizes Dean's List students who have achieved 4.00 semester grade point averages.

What happens when students have academic difficulties?

Students in good academic standing have at least a 2.0 GPA. Students at CMU are responsible for recognizing when they are having academic difficulties and for seeking help as needed. They are encouraged to seek assistance from their instructors, counselors, advisors or the Academic Advising and Assistance Office.

What is the academic probation policy?

At the end of each semester or summer session, a student is placed on academic probation if his or her cumulative grade point average falls within the probation ranges below. The ranges vary depending on the student's attempted hours or total hours, whichever is greater. Total hours include credits attempted at CMU as well as transfer credits or hours earned in any other manner. A student on academic probation for the third consecutive semester, including summer sessions, is subject to academic dismissal.

Attempted/ Total Hours	Suspension/Dismissal GPA Ranges	Probation GPA Ranges
6-18	0.0-0.99	1.00-1.99
19-35	0.0-1.49	1.50-1.99
36-45	0.0-1.69	1.70-1.99
46-58	0.0-1.79	1.80-1.99
59-71	0.0-1.84	1.85-1.99
72-85	0.0-1.89	1.90-1.99
86 and over	0.0-1.94	1.95-1.99

The university notifies students who are placed on academic probation by sending an email to the student's CMU email account. This notice typically will arrive by the Friday following final exam week and will encourage students to seek advising, counseling, or academic assistance.

What is academic suspension?

Students in their first semester (at least 6 credit hours) of academic courses taken at CMU are assigned an academic suspended status if their first semester or summer session GPA falls below the range for academic probation. Suspended status is a warning and students may not attend the next academic session until they appeal. Details regarding a student's academic suspension status, suggestions for corrective action, and the appeal process are communicated by email from the Academic Advising and Assistance office following the official grade deadline for each semester or summer session.

What is the academic dismissal policy?

A continuing student with a cumulative GPA below the cumulative GPA range for probation, or when the student has been on academic probation for three consecutive semesters including summer sessions, will be assigned an academic dismissal status. At that time, the University notifies students that their enrollment is canceled. Details regarding a student's academic status, suggestions for corrective action, and an appeal process are communicated by e-mail from the Academic Advising and Assistance office following the official grade deadline for each semester or summer session. Consideration for enrollment is based upon individual student circumstances. If students wish to return to the University, they must appeal through the Academic Advising and Assistance office (250 Ronan Hall, 989-774-3465), or see https://www.cmich.edu/ess/academic_advising_assistance/Pages/default.aspx.

How do I return to the university after an Academic Suspension or Dismissal?

A student whose eligibility to enroll (matriculate) has been canceled for academic reasons, may appeal to return through the Academic Advising and Assistance office. Students who have been suspended may apply for immediate rematriculation. Students who have been dismissed, may appeal for reinstatement consideration usually 12 months after dismissal. A student who has been dismissed twice will be rematriculated only under extraordinary circumstances. Rematriculation/reinstatement requires a written application, payment of the rematriculation application fee, and a personal interview with the Academic Advising and Assistance office. Supporting documents may also be required. Interviews for students seeking to return will be scheduled in advance of each enrollment period. Permission to return is not automatic and is based upon individual circumstances.

Withdrawing from all courses

Students enrolled in all full term courses may withdraw from all courses using the complete withdrawal functionality in Course Search and Registration on Centrallink (centrallink.cmich.edu). Students enrolled in any short term courses, online courses or have already withdrawn from an individual course, will be referred to the Registrar's Office (Warriner Hall 212) for assistance. A student requesting a complete semester withdrawal may qualify for full or partial tuition and course-related fee cancellation based on the date he or she files. The student may also qualify for a refund of housing fees if he or she is living in a residence hall. The student should contact the Office of Residence Life at 989-774-3111 about terminating a housing contract and checking on possible refunds. Students should consult Course Search and Registration available at cmich.edu/registrar for deadline dates, the refund schedule for complete semester withdrawals, and the policies on course drops and individual course withdrawals.

What is the tuition cancellation policy if a student withdraws or drops a class?

A student who drops a class by the drop deadline will receive full cancellation of tuition and course-related fees. After the drop deadline, a student may withdraw from an individual course through the 10th week of classes for a full-semester course or through the midpoint for a shorter term course, but there is no cancellation of tuition and course-related fees.

ACADEMIC ASSISTANCE

Where can students obtain tutoring?

The CMU Tutoring Program offers one-on-one tutoring for most 100-400 level courses to all undergraduate students enrolled in face-to-face courses and some online courses. Walk-in tutoring is offered for some high-demand subjects as well. The tutors are students recommended by faculty and, though every effort is made to fulfill every request, occasionally a tutor may not be available for a course. Students seeking these tutors are asked to visit the Academic Advising and Assistance office in 250 Ronan Hall or to call 989-774-3465. Additional areas providing subject-specific tutoring opportunities include:

- The Math Assistance Center (MAC). For information, visit: <https://www.cmich.edu/colleges/se/math/Mathematics%20Assistance%20Center/Pages/default.aspx>, call 989-774-2290 or email MathAC@cmich.edu
- The Writing Center. More information can be found at: <https://www.cmich.edu/colleges/class/Centers/WritingCenter>
- The Supplemental Instruction (SI) program. Students inquiring about SI can contact Academic Advising and Assistance in 250 Ronan Hall, aad@cmich.edu, or 989-774-3465

What can students do when they are concerned about their academic performance?

Making the transition to being an academically successful university student can be difficult for even the most successful high school or community college student. Professional staff members are available in Academic Advising and Assistance, (250 Ronan Hall, 989-774-3465, aad@cmich.edu) or in the Office of Student Success (260 Ronan Hall, 989-774-3401, oss@cmich.edu) to assist all undergraduate students who have concerns about how they are doing in their classes, the effect of academic performance on their grade point average, how to study, how to read more effectively, or how to manage their time to achieve better balance between academics and other areas of their lives.

We encourage students to get to know their professors so they can more easily seek assistance when encountering difficulties. We emphasize that students who attend classes regularly and who sit in front do better, as do those who prepare and review every subject every day, even if only for 20 minutes each.

Is there a campus-wide, class attendance policy?

No; each individual instructor will share their attendance expectations at the beginning of the semester, usually listing the information in the course syllabus. It is the student's responsibility to communicate directly with each individual instructor regarding absences for illness or other planned and/or unplanned attendance issues.

However, in the event your student will be absent from classes three or more days, he or she should contact the Office of Student Affairs at 989-774-3346. At that time, a courtesy email message will be sent to your student's instructors acknowledging that they have reported being away from campus for an extended period of time. This note should not be viewed as an excuse, rather a simple confirmation of what your student has shared with the Office of Student Affairs — it is done as a courtesy only. Attendance decisions rest solely with the instructor.

If a student experiences a death of a family member, CMU has a bereavement policy which was established to support students who encounter a tragic event that may interrupt their academic studies. To learn more, visit this webpage: <https://www.cmich.edu/ourcmu/Pages/bereavement-and-military-leave.aspx>.

Student Ombuds Office

The Student Ombuds Office welcomes all students to speak openly about any university-related question, concern, or challenge they may experience as they navigate their CMU experience. The Ombudsperson is an impartial, informal, and independent source of information for students. Together, we can discuss your situation, resources that are available to you, and options for next steps to get your concern resolved. Our conversations are private, and you will be empowered to make informed decisions about how you want to move forward. Feel free to contact the office at 989-774-3010 or ombuds@cmich.edu.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

How can my student get in contact with an academic advisor and what services do they provide? Academic advisors provide personalized support to students during their academic journey from start to finish. They discuss academics in areas such as course selection, degree or graduation requirements, and transfer credit as well as provide academic coaching in areas such as time management, college transition, and goal setting. If a student needs support or answers to questions, advisors are a great resource and can connect them to other campus resources if needed.

All students are assigned an academic advisor at their New Student Orientation based of their area of interest. Their advisor serves as a continued point of contact and support until graduation. Advisors take a proactive approach to advising and want to meet with their students at least twice over the course of their first year. A student can see who their academic advisor under the Advisor Tab in their Degree Progress, which can be accessed via Centrallink. They can also schedule an appointment by calling 989-774-7506. Advisors are available Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

What expectations will an academic advisor have for my student?

An academic advisor works in partnership with your student to help them progress toward graduation. Advisors do not make decisions for your student but instead help your student navigate their college and academic path by asking them questions and getting to know them on an individual basis. In addition, the advisor expects your student to engage in regular meetings (twice a year for freshman, once a year for transfers) to ensure they are getting the guidance needed for success. It is important for your student to come prepared for each advising appointment which includes bringing technology or any relevant documentation, as well as a list of questions or goals for the meeting. Your student should always follow through on referrals and suggestions made by the advisor.

Advisors also regularly share important information and deadlines via (usually via email) and encourage students to review those messages.

How does my student declare a major?

Your student must declare a major by the time they earn 56 credit hours (typically at the end of their second year). Most majors can be declared at any time, while others have admission standards which may require the student to declare an intent to major prior to an official major declaration.

Your student should plan to meet with their academic advisor to discuss any details or processes specific to their area of interest. Students are also encouraged to reach out directly to an academic department for more information.

If your student is undecided and still exploring, the advisor will likely refer them to take the Awato Assessment, make an appointment with a Career Coach in the Career Development Center, take exploratory classes within our General Education, or to enroll in CED 101, a 1-credit career exploration course.

Important advising milestones

Beyond declaring a major before earning 56 credits, there are additional milestones important to your student's overall success. The term or year a student completes these milestones are recommendations; your student will work with their advisor on a customized timeline specific to their individual academic history and area of study.

- Create an academic plan and/or graduation plan: Students will work with their academic advisor to map out their program of interest.
- Completing a Degree Progress meeting: Around 75 credits or within the third year, students should schedule a degree progress meeting with their advisor. This is a touchpoint to ensure students are still on track and on a successful path for graduation. Students, particularly transfers, may complete a graduation plan and a degree progress meeting at the same appointment.
- Applying for graduation: At 86 credit hours or a year out from their intended graduation, students will apply for graduation. After applying, a student is issued a graduation audit from the Registrar's Office which details remaining requirements.

After New Student Orientation, how do students register for classes for future semesters?

Students register for classes using Course Search and Registration, found in CentralLink (centrallink.cmich.edu). CMU utilizes a multi-semester registration process. In February of each given year, a student will register for the next summer, fall, and spring semesters. Students register based on an appointment time determined by the total number of credit hours they have earned at CMU and any courses in progress at CMU for the current term.

The class schedule is located in CentralLink under Course Search and Registration. It is important for students to meet with their advisors each semester before they register to receive help in selecting appropriate classes for their programs.

THE UNIVERSITY HONORS PROGRAM

The University Honors Program provides high academic ability students with unique educational opportunities and challenges students to aim higher and achieve more meaningfully. Engagement with a vibrant Honors community, opportunities for research and creative work with top University faculty, and unique Honors coursework both on campus and around the world all help to transform Honors students' lives empowering them to help transform the world for the greater good.

Track II Honors Program Admission

The majority of Honors Program students are admitted to the Honors Program right out of high school. However, The Honors Program reserves space each year, for "Track II admits" which includes transfer students, current CMU students, and international students. If your student falls into either of these categories, and has a cumulative college GPA of 3.5 or higher (as recommended by the Honors Council), then we encourage your student to apply to the Honors Program at the start of the Spring semester for priority consideration. If spaces in the class remain, there will be an extended application deadline of August 1. The current Honors Track II Application and Protocol are available online at www.cmich.edu/honors. All accepted Track II admits must begin as a cohort in the fall semester immediately following their acceptance, and must enroll during that same fall semester, in HON 300, an introductory course to Honors, that focuses on the Honors Protocol, and senior project requirements. If you have questions about Honors Program Admission please contact the Honors Program Office at 989- 774-3902.

SARAH R. OPPERMAN LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE www.cmich.edu/leadership

The Leadership Institute is named for Sarah R. Opperman, retired Vice President of the Dow Chemical Company. Opperman was appointed to the CMU Board of Trustees by Governor Jennifer Granholm on January 27, 2009, for an eight-year term expiring December 31, 2016. Ms. Opperman joined the Dow Chemical Company in 1981 and retired from the company in 2009 as global vice president of government affairs and public policy. She now owns a public affairs consultancy. A 1981 graduate of CMU, Ms. Opperman previously served on the CMU Alumni Association Board of Directors and is a member of CMU's Development Board.

The Leadership Institute was established in 1997 to help Central Michigan University prepare students to serve as leaders in business, government, education, and community agencies. Since its creation, the Leadership Institute has been recognized as a national best practices program for creating student leaders. The Institute works to ensure that CMU graduates leaders; this work is guided by four overarching leadership learning goals:

1. Leadership knowledge and application. Students understand theoretical and historical perspectives of leadership, they are equipped to evaluate options, think critically, take healthy risks, and are forward thinking.
2. Identity development. Students demonstrate accurate self-appraisal, have developed a well-defined sense of purpose, understand their identities and intersectionality of them, and they seek and consider feedback from others.
3. Healthy relationships. Student can manage interpersonal conflict effectively, display appropriately assertive behavior, develop mutually beneficial relationships, value diverse perspectives, and demonstrate care for others.
4. Social responsibility. Students understand power and privilege, actively work for the greater good (social justice), demonstrate consideration for the welfare of others in decision-making, and act with integrity.

Co-Curricular Leadership Programs

The Leadership Institute offers a four-year leadership program sequence. Enrollment in student leadership programs is open to all Central Michigan University students. Programs include Leadership Safari, Spark Leadership, the Connections Leadership Conference, Ignite Leadership, and the LeaderShape Institute. The Leadership Institute has offices in Powers Hall 100 and Bovee University Center 201. Connect with the Leadership Institute to learn more about program offerings by calling (989) 774-LEAD, and online at cmich.edu/leadership. The LI can be found on Twitter at @CMU_Leadership.

MARY ELLEN BRANDELL VOLUNTEER CENTER

What is the Volunteer Center?

The Mary Ellen Brandell Volunteer Center supports students as they develop into active citizens in their community by providing community service and civic engagement opportunities and social issue education. The Volunteer Center connects students to local, national, international, and virtual volunteer opportunities through partnerships with over 100 community organizations. We also offer on-campus volunteer events addressing a range of social issues from food insecurity, child literacy, animal welfare, and more. More information on these programs and opportunities can be found on our website: www.volunteer.cmich.edu.

How can students start volunteering?

It's easy! Located in the Bovee University Center, Room 106, the Volunteer Center maintains a variety of ways for students to learn about service opportunities. Students are encouraged to visit the Volunteer Center office and talk with a staff member about potential service options; they can also call us at 989-774-7685 or email volunteer.center@cmich.edu. Additionally, students can find opportunities that fit their interests and schedules on our Engage Central portal which can also be accessed from our website: www.volunteer.cmich.edu. The Volunteer Center also posts volunteer opportunities and educational resources on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram (@CMUVolunteers).

What is the Student Food Pantry?

The Student Food Pantry provides supplemental food support, cleaning, and hygiene products to any CMU student experiencing food insecurity. For information on hours or to register for a distribution, please visit the CMU Student Food Pantry webpage at: www.cmich.edu/foodresources.

STUDY ABROAD

When can students start planning to study abroad?

Students are encouraged to begin planning to study abroad immediately upon arrival at CMU. The annual Study Abroad Fair takes place in September and offers the opportunity right at the start of the academic year to learn about the many different study abroad programs. Students can also connect with study abroad advisors and study abroad alumni.

Are there many choices?

CMU offers more than 150 study sites in more than 50 countries. In addition to study programs, students may choose to intern abroad, including virtually. Faculty-led programs offer students an international education experience with CMU faculty and fellow CMU students.

How can students fund study abroad?

There are several low-cost programs available, and students can continue to receive financial aid from CMU. Scholarships are available on campus and nationally, specifically for students who study abroad.

How long can students study abroad?

It is possible to study abroad for one week during spring break, two to eight weeks in the summer, a semester or an academic year. It is not necessary to speak a foreign language to study in a non-English-speaking country because classes are available in English in many countries. Beginning language classes are part of the program. Housing is provided with all of our programs and students typically live in a residence hall, apartment or with a host family; faculty-led program participants typically stay in student hostels or hotels.

Where can more information be found?

Information about all the study abroad programs, including information for parents and families, is available online at studyabroad.cmich.edu. Study Abroad Advisors meet with students to assist with the program selection and application process. Advising appointments, which are based on major, may be made online on our website. Parents are welcome to contact us with questions by email (studyabr@cmich.edu) or by phone 989-774-4308.

OFFICE OF RESIDENCE LIFE

What is the campus residency policy?

Central Michigan University's campus residency policy requires that first and second-year students live in a residence hall or in Northwest Apartments. Those who reach the four-semester requirement at midyear are required to complete the full term of the contract for the academic year (fall and spring semester). CMU may waive the second-year requirement in years when space is not available on campus.

Exceptions to the policy may be granted if special circumstances are outlined, and approval is obtained, prior to the signing of the Housing Contract.

Why a second year on campus?

CMU cares about student success and student success begins with living on campus. National research shows that students who live on campus are more successful. Students who live on campus have higher grade point averages, are more satisfied with their college experience, are more engaged in co-curricular experiences, and are more likely to graduate than students who live off campus. When you live on campus, you belong to a community that supports and encourages your success. You live in close proximity to resources that are integral to student success. In addition, you will have the opportunity to develop lifelong friendships. No other housing option can provide students with this type of value.

How can my student change their meal plan?

Meal plan changes may be made with the Office of Residence Life prior to the first day of classes. After classes begin, meal plan changes may be made at the CentralCard Office for a $15 fee, or by visiting www.cmucentralcard.com.

How does the room change process work?

Research shows that living in a community with people from different backgrounds, values, personalities, and interests is an integral part of the college experience. Our goal is for students to learn from their on-campus living experience, so it is important to understand that space change is not the first consideration when issues arise between roommates.

Sharing a living space with others can be stressful, and conflicts may arise. We know that roommate conflict can be uncomfortable to deal with. However, there are benefits to experiencing conflict; these types of situations provide us with opportunities to strengthen our communication skills, better understand our values, and learn to compromise and negotiate; all of these are necessary real-world skills.

Space changes are a last resort in dealing with roommate conflict except in emergency situations (e.g., physical violence). Guest visitation, differences of backgrounds, and use of alcohol are not treated as emergency situations. Approved space changes may take place beginning of the third week of the semester (after two full weeks of classes). This gives the Office of Residence Life time to assign students that need assignments, process cancellations, and identify open spaces. Space changes maybe altered Fall 2021 due to COVID.

Space changes typically are not granted during the summer term due to our facilities management schedule. The Office of Residence Life has very few open spaces during the academic year, so the opportunity for space changes is limited and not guaranteed. Please keep in mind that the Office of Residence Life does not move students due to differences of race, ethnicity, religion and beliefs, sexual orientation, physical ability, or any other social identity.

May students decorate their living space?

Residents are welcome to make their rooms comfortable. However, due to facility restrictions and health and safety issues, there are guidelines. Drilling, sawing, or attaching items to walls, floors, or ceilings with screws, nails, glue, or other devices is not allowed. Residents may not permanently alter walls, ceilings, or floors. Posters and other combustible decorations cannot cover more than one third of a wall. Students are NOT permitted to hang anything from the ceiling piping or sprinkler heads. No paper may be taped to lights at any time in rooms or public areas.

Are lofts allowed in the residence halls?

Lofts are permitted but must be rented through BedLoft.com. If you decide to rent a loft, the university-provided furniture must be stored in your own residence hall room. All lofts must be disassembled and the bed reassembled two weeks before the end of the spring semester.

The university has no provisions for storing lofts over the summer, so they must be removed at the end of the year. Because the beds that are furnished in Campbell, Carey, Celani, Fabiano, Kessler, Kulhavi, and Robinson Halls may be lofted, students are not allowed to rent lofts.

In addition, lofts are not allowed in Cobb Hall because of space restrictions.

Who is responsible for cleaning the living space?

Students are expected to keep their living space clean. They are responsible for taking their trash and recycling outside to the appropriate dumpsters on a regular basis. Custodians vacuum floors in common areas such as hallways, lobbies and lounges. Students are expected to pick up personal belongings in common areas.

Is storage available in residence halls or apartments?

Storage is very limited in each residence hall room, so students may consider adding storage with small bookcases, baskets, a trunk or cartons that stack. They should plan to take seasonal clothing and bicycles home at break periods.

What size are the mattresses in the residence halls?

Mattresses in all but one of the residence halls are 36" wide by 80" long, so traditional fitted sheets will not fit. Twin extra-long sheets are available at various retail stores. Mattresses in the apartments are full size. Carey Hall has full extra-long mattresses.

What type of support is available in the residence halls?

The Residence Hall Director/Residence Director is a full-time, live-in, professional staff member responsible for the daily operations of a 250-650 bed residence hall(s) or on-campus apartments. The RHD/RD directly supervises 5-12 Resident Assistants, 1-2 Inclusion Assistants, and most RHD/RDs supervise a front desk operation and advise hall council. The RHD/RD is charged with developing a community that promotes engagement, learning, respect for diversity, and student success. The RHD/RD plays an integral role in developing and implementing our residential curriculum.

Each floor/apartment has a Resident Assistant and an Inclusion Assistant per community. The Resident Assistant is an upper-class student who lives on the floor/apartment community to serve as the primary resource for the building community and fostering student learning and growth. (An Inclusion Assistant is an upper-class student who, in addition to enhancing the support of students with underrepresented/marginalized identities, their role is to educate community members on topics of equity and justice and to bridge campus resources and partnerships.) Paraprofessional staff play an important role in helping the Office of Residence Life achieve our educational priority, so that as a result of living on campus, residents will become empowered citizens who responsibly impact their communities.

What is a Student Success Center?

A Student Success Center is a location where student services professionals work as a team to help residents become successful students. A Care Advocate and Assistant Director are located in each success center. In addition, each Residence Hall Director is trained in academic advising. Community police officers are also available and visible within campus housing.

Are there curfews in the residence halls?

No, but the buildings are secured each evening. After the outside doors are locked, students may enter the front door of their building by showing their key and their Campus ID card. After 10pm, enter through front door and check in at front desk with Campus ID.

Are there visitation hours or overnight guest policies?

Members of each hall council decide visitation hours at the beginning of each academic year. Individual room apartments are responsible for signing a guest waiver form if all residents agree to allow overnight guests. No overnight guests will be allowed prior to the start of classes in the fall, during the first week of fall semester, or during exam week of the fall or spring semesters. Guest policies may be altered Fall 2021 due to COVID-19.

Is there computer hookup capability in the residence halls and apartments?

All university housing has computer hookup capability in each living space and offers wireless connectivity. Each student must supply their own computer, network card, and network cabling.

Does CMU have a policy regarding sexual and gender-based misconduct?

Yes. The Sexual and Gender-Based Misconduct Policy prohibits sexual and gender-based misconduct, including dating violence, domestic violence/intimate partner violence, sexual assault, sexual exploitation, sexual harassment, stalking, and retaliation by members of the university community.

To file a complaint with the university regarding sexual misconduct or gender-based misconduct, contact CMU's Title IX Coordinator at the Office of Civil Rights

STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND INVOLVEMENT

The Office of Student Activities & Involvement is home to hundreds of student organizations, fraternity and sorority life chapters, and campus wide events that promote CMU spirit, community and involvement.

Research shows that student involvement in co-curricular activities such as student organizations, leadership positions, and activities has a positive correlation with retention and academics. Because of the positive aspects of co-curricular involvement, CMU encourages students to become involved.

What leadership opportunities exist at CMU?

There are several hundred organizations on campus with leadership positions. CMU has a strong commitment to volunteerism and community service, and many students assume leadership positions through the Volunteer Center and other community agencies. In addition, freshmen will have the opportunity to participate in a student organization fair during their first week on campus. This will help them obtain information and meet members of campus organizations. Contact the Office of Student Activities and Involvement, Bovee University Center 101, 989-774-3016, or visit cmich.edu/SAI for more information.

How can my student get involved in fraternities or sororities?

CMU has over 25 national social and cultural fraternities and sororities. Students can attend recruitment events at the beginning of each semester. These events enable students to become acquainted with the various groups and help make their decision easier.

Most fraternities and sororities were founded on values and beliefs established in the late 1880s and early 1900s. Many promote strong moral character, high academic achievement, service to the community, fraternal bonds and personal development. To learn more about fraternity and sorority life, contact the Office of Student Activities and Involvement at 989-774-3016 or visit cmich.edu/SAI.

What activities are available for my student?

CMU students can get involved from their first days on campus. There are more than 350 student organizations in interest areas such as service, honors, politics, academics, religion and athletics. Students can also organize new groups that fit their own interests. A busy calendar of activities includes music concerts, performing arts productions, theater, nationally renowned speakers, athletic competitions, comedians and much more. In addition, more than 40 intramural sports are played through the University Recreation program. If you would like to learn more about student activities, contact the Office of Student Activities and Involvement at 989-774-3016 or visit cmich.edu/SAI.

Many programs take place in the Student Activity Center (SAC) – a 175,000-square-foot facility that is fully accessible to individuals with disabilities. The SAC is a complete recreation center focusing on health, fitness and fun for all members of the university community. In addition, there are more than 200,000 square feet of outdoor space, including intramural fields and a disc golf course.

There are unlimited recreation opportunities such as aquatics, fitness, jogging, billiards, group fitness, racquetball, table tennis, basketball, volleyball, badminton, tennis, floor hockey, indoor soccer, dancing, movies and various other leisure activities. Activities are directed by a highly qualified campus staff in conjunction with a large staff of students.

Programs help students, faculty and staff maintain a high-quality lifestyle and provide choices for active use of leisure time. Activities are offered within intramurals, fitness, aquatics, and special events. The department also advises club sports. More than 40 club sports are available to special interest groups that require memberships, normally for a fee.

Open recreation is a self-service program allowing drop-in use by people who show a current CMU ID card validated for building use or who have a guest pass. Access to the Student Activities Center is a benefit of students' tuition. Options include swimming, jogging, indoor driving range, table tennis, pickup basketball, weight training and other activities. This program also allows for making reservations for racquetball, tennis, walleyball and volleyball. The intramural sports program consists of meets and leagues in more than 40 sports. STUDENT CONDUCT

Does CMU have an alcohol and drug use policy?

Yes. Only students who are of legal drinking age may have alcoholic beverages in their residence hall rooms. They cannot violate any local, state or university ordinances. Most new students will not be of legal age to consume alcohol. No one can consume or possess alcohol in open containers in lounges, recreation rooms, hallways, outdoors or in other public areas. The alcohol policy statement is available from the Office of Student Affairs or the Office of Student Conduct.

Tobacco-Free Campus

As of July 1, 2014, CMU adopted a tobacco-free campus as part of its commitment to providing a healthy environment for learning, living and working. The new policy, "A Breath of Fresh Air," eliminated the use of tobacco products anywhere on campus – indoors or outdoors. The policy prohibits the use of any form of tobacco on campus, including traditional cigarettes, e-cigarettes, vape pens, chewing tobacco, pipes, cigars, hookahs, waterpipes, snus and snuff. We expect students, faculty, and staff to adhere to this policy.

What can parents do to assist?

Our policies on alcohol and drug use are clear, and we view violations of these very strongly. We confront students and issue sanctions when we identify transgressions. Federal Law H.R. 6 allows universities to notify parents when violations occur. CMU will notify parents when students are found in violation. We encourage parents to join us in an effort to prevent incidents that might interfere with their student's academic goals and personal well-being while at CMU.

What behavior is expected of CMU students?

Students are expected to obey federal, state and local laws as well as the rules and regulations of the university. The Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities and Disciplinary Procedures establishes expectations for student behavior within the university community. This code also outlines acts on university-owned or controlled property that constitute unacceptable conduct by graduate and undergraduate students. All alleged violations of the code may result in referral to the Office of Student Conduct. The university also reserves the right to review students' off-campus conduct.

If a student is sanctioned under the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities and Disciplinary Procedures, will that action appear on his or her permanent university record?

No. A separate discipline file is maintained by the Office of Student Conduct.

Do I have access to my student's disciplinary records?

Student records are kept confidential between the student and the university. These records may not be reviewed by others without the student's permission.

Does CMU have a policy regarding discrimination and/or harassment?

Yes. CMU's Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action Protocol prohibits unlawful acts of discrimination or harassment on the basis of age, color, disability, ethnicity, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, height, marital status, national origin, political persuasion, pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions, race, religion, sex, sex-based stereotypes, sexual orientation, transgender status, veteran status, familial status, or weight by members of the university community.

Prohibited acts include discrimination or harassment in employment, education, housing, public accommodations, public services, and telecommunications. To file a complaint of harassment or discrimination, contact the Office of Civil Rights and Institutional Equity. The office is located in the Bovee University Center, Room 306, and can be reached at 989-774-3253, OCRIE@cmich.edu.

College work study, general student assistance and community job postings are available online at ses.cmich.edu. Many departmental jobs are available on campus, including residence halls, dining facilities, grounds and maintenance, Student Activity Center, library, and bookstore positions. More information is available at Student Employment Services, Bovee University Center 121, by calling 989-774-3881 or online at ses.cmich.edu.

Should students work during their first year?

Won't employment interfere with studies and adjustment to college? CMU research data shows that students who work on-campus jobs have higher grade point averages, graduate at a faster rate, and learn valuable job skills to include on a resume. If the student has a desire to work, he or she should be encouraged to do so. The average student employee actually works approximately 10 hours a week. Work assignments are scheduled before, between, and after classes to meet the needs of both students and employers. Having an on-campus job can help the student better organize his or her time, make valuable contacts, learn new skills, and adjust to the overall atmosphere of college life.

FINANCIAL AID/STUDENT LOANS

How should students apply for financial aid, and when do they receive notice of their financial aid package?

Students must apply for financial aid each year by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Students may complete and submit the FAFSA online at fafsa.gov. New freshmen are notified of their financial aid offers in February; returning students receive notification in early June. The 2022-2023 FAFSA will be available October 1, 2021. Families will use their 2020 tax information to complete FAFSA.

What kind of aid is available to students?

After students file their FAFSAs, they automatically are considered for all federal, state and institutional financial aid. Aid may consist of one or more of the following: scholarships, grants, jobs, and student and parent loans. Merit scholarships are automatically awarded to new freshmen and community college graduates who meet the academic criteria. In addition, privately endowed scholarships are awarded to new and returning students based on need, academic focus, career aspirations or other criteria. Additional information about scholarships opportunities can be found on our website at financialaid.cmich.edu.

If a student has received financial aid, when will those dollars be applied to the student's account to pay for university charges?

Processed and finalized financial aid is applied to the student's account by the first week of the semester.

If financial aid exceeds charges, what happens to the extra money?

Once CMU charges have been paid by a student's financial aid, any remaining money is refunded to the student to use for other educational expenses. Students must select their refund option (direct deposit or CMU Money card) via the student portal at CentralLink.cmich.edu.
