Dear parents and supporters:

Welcome to the CMU family!

This handbook has been designed as a quick guide to answer many of the questions you might have regarding CMU and our student services. While we anticipate the information we have compiled will be helpful, it is not all-inclusive and will require your student to take action in collaboration with their success network (advisors, faculty, residence hall staff, campus resource staff, etc.). Our office exists because we recognize you as a part of that success network and hope you will encourage them to stay engaged in their educational journey and stay connected to staff on-campus who want to assist them. We invite you to stay involved!

We welcome you to visit our webpage (www.cmich.edu/parentandfamily) and further connect with us by signing up for our newsletter and joining our Facebook group. When you need additional service or information on any issue, we encourage you to call us for assistance. You will also find a directory with telephone numbers of many campus service offices on the inside back cover. If there is anything we can do to improve and support your experience as a CMU parent or supporter, do not hesitate to contact us.

Please stay connected with us throughout your student's CMU education!

ACADEMIC ADVISING

How can my student get in contact with an academic advisor and what services do they provide? Academic advisors provide personalized support to students during their academic journey from start to finish. They discuss academics in areas such as course selection, degree or graduation requirements, and transfer credit as well as provide academic coaching in areas such as time management, college transition, and goal setting. If a student needs support or answers to questions, advisors are a great resource and can connect them to other campus resources if needed.

All students are assigned an academic advisor at their New Student Orientation based on their area of interest. Their advisor serves as a continued point of contact and support until graduation. Advisors take a proactive approach to advising and want to meet with their students at least twice over the course of their first year. A student can see who their academic advisor is under the tab in their Degree Progress, which can be accessed via Centrallink. They can also schedule an appointment by calling 989-774-7506. Advisors are available Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

What expectations will an academic advisor have for my student?

An academic advisor works in partnership with your student to help them progress toward graduation. Advisors do not make decisions for your student but instead help your student navigate their college and academic path by asking them questions and getting to know them on an individual basis. It is important for your student to come prepared for each advising appointment which includes bringing technology or any relevant documentation, as well as a list of questions or goals for the meeting. Your student should always follow through on referrals and suggestions made by the advisor.

Advisors also regularly share important information and deadlines via (usually via email) and encourage students to review those messages.

How does my student declare a major?

Your student must declare a major by the time they earn 56 credit hours (typically at the end of their second year). Most majors can be declared at any time, while others have admission standards which may require the student to declare an intent to major prior to an official major declaration.

Your student should plan to meet with their academic advisor to discuss any details or processes specific to their area of interest. Students are also encouraged to reach out directly to an academic department for more information.

If your student is undecided and still exploring, the advisor will likely refer them to take the Focus 2 Career assessment, make an appointment with a Career Coach in the Career Development through Career Central, take exploratory classes within our General Education.

ACADEMICS

What is a bulletin?

Each year the University publishes the Bulletin which is a source of academic information and resources as well as the final authority on academic policy. Your student is expected to reference the Bulletin and be aware of policies contained within and to use it as a planning guide. While a new Bulletin is published each academic year, your student should plan their degree/major requirements using those listed in the Bulletin published in the year they were admitted (or up to seven years after admission). Previous Bulletins are archived on the Bulletin webpage for reference. Other information found includes a catalog of academic programs, degree requirements, course descriptions, and admissions criteria.

After New Student Orientation, how do students register for future semesters?

Students register for courses using Course Search and Registration, at cmich.edu

CMU utilizes a multi-semester registration process. In February/March of each year, students can register for the next summer, fall, and spring semesters. Students register based on a schedule. Students can view their registration date and time in Course Search and Registration.

Course offerings are listed in Course Search and Registration. It is important for students to meet with their academic advisors before registering.

How do students change their course schedules?

Students use Course Search and Registration to add and drop courses. Drop and withdraw deadlines are listed in Course Search and Registration. A student who drops a course by the published drop deadline will receive a full refund of tuition. Additional registration information can be found at cmich.edu/registrars. Students can also contact the Registrar's Office at 989-774-3261 for assistance.

What is the policy if a student withdraws or drops a class?

Individual course withdrawal - After the drop deadline has passed, students may still have the option to withdraw from a course if done before the published withdrawal deadline. To withdraw means the course will be graded as a "W." A course with a "W" grade does not factor into a student's CMU GPA. Instructors will be notified of the course withdrawal. In cases involving academic dishonesty, the instructor will notify the Registrar's Office to reinstate the course and the instructor will submit the final grade.

The percentage of the tuition credit amount is determined by the timeframe in which the drop/withdrawal is completed.

- 50% tuition credit and grade of "W" = for courses withdrawn after the drop/add period but before the end of the second week of the semester or term.
- 0% tuition credit and grade of "W" = for courses withdrawn after the end of the second week of the semester or term until the published withdrawal deadline.

During the 10th through the 25th calendar day from the official start date of a semester, students are permitted to offset credits and course fees with recommendation of advisor. Student should reference the Offset Policy found in the Bulletin and consult with their Academic Advisor as early in the semester as possible.

Withdrawing from all courses

Students can withdraw from all their courses in Course Search and Registration before or on the published withdrawal date. A student processing a complete semester withdrawal may receive a percentage refund of tuition. Students should consult the Registrar's Office webpage (cmich.edu/registrars) for deadline dates, the refund schedule for complete semester withdrawals, and the policies on course drops and individual course withdrawals.

A student living in a residence hall should contact the Office of Residence Life at 989-774-3111 for questions regarding residence hall charges, charges, possible refunds, and terminating the housing contract. Unenrolled students are ineligible to remain in University housing.

Please note, students receiving financial aid who complete a semester withdrawal from all courses may compromise their financial aid. Before withdrawing from all courses, students should contact OneCentral at 989-774-3928 for withdrawal counseling.

What happens when students have academic difficulties?

Students in good academic standing have at least a 2.0 GPA. Students at CMU are responsible for recognizing when they are having academic difficulties and for seeking help as needed. They are encouraged to seek assistance from their instructors, counselors, advisors or the Academic Advising and Assistance Office. As part of an annual process occurring at the end of each spring semester, all students whose cumulative grade point average (GPA) is below 2.00 will either be placed on academic probation, academic suspension, or academic dismissal.

What is the academic probation policy?

At the end of each Spring semester, a student is placed on academic probation if their cumulative grade point average falls within probationary range. The ranges vary depending on the student's attempted hours or total hours, whichever is greater. Total hours include credits attempted at CMU as well as transfer credits or hours earned in any other manner. A student on academic probation for the third consecutive semester, including summer sessions, is subject to academic dismissal. Questions regarding probation status/ranges should be answered by referencing the student's Bulletin in consultation with an Academic Advisor.

The university notifies students who are placed on academic probation by sending an email to the student's CMU email account. This notice will encourage students to seek advising, counseling, or academic assistance.

What is academic suspension?

Students in their first semester (at least 6 credit hours) of academic courses taken at CMU are assigned an academic suspended status if their first semester or summer session GPA falls below the range for academic probation. Suspended status is a warning and students may not attend the next academic session until they appeal. Details regarding a student's academic suspension status, suggestions for corrective action, and the appeal process are communicated by email from the Academic Advising and Assistance office following the official grade deadline for each semester or summer session.

What is the academic dismissal policy?

A continuing student with a cumulative GPA below the cumulative GPA range for probation, or when the student has been on academic probation for three consecutive semesters including summer sessions, will be assigned an academic dismissal status. At that time, the University notifies students that their enrollment is canceled. Details regarding a student's academic status, suggestions for corrective action, and an appeal process are communicated by e-mail from the Academic Advising and Assistance office following the official grade deadline for each semester or summer session. Consideration for enrollment is based upon individual student circumstances. If students wish to return to the University, they must appeal through the Academic Advising and Assistance office (250 Ronan Hall, 989-774-3465).

How do I return to the university after an Academic Suspension or Dismissal?

Students who have been suspended may apply for immediate reenrollment/rematriculation. Students who have been dismissed, may appeal for reinstatement consideration 12 months after dismissal. A student who has been dismissed twice will be rematriculated only under extraordinary circumstances. Rematriculation/reinstatement requires a written application, payment of the rematriculation application fee, and a personal interview with the Academic Advising and Assistance office. Supporting documents may also be required. Interviews for students seeking to return will be scheduled in advance of each enrollment period. Permission to return is not automatic and is based upon individual circumstances.

When are grades available?

At the end of each on-campus semester or session, grades are available in Degree Progress. Please refer to the Academic Calendar for semester dates.

Who is eligible for the Dean's List?

The Dean's List is published following the fall, spring, and summer semesters. To be included on the Dean's List, a student must earn a semester GPA of 3.5 and carry 12 letter-graded credit hours. Those students with an asterisk (*) following their name have earned a semester GPA of 4.0 and are elevated to the President's List. Graded credit hours do not include CR/NC. The Dean's List is for undergraduate students only.

ACADEMIC ASSISTANCE

Where can students obtain tutoring?

The CMU Tutoring Program offers one-on-one tutoring for most 100-300 level courses to all undergraduate students enrolled in face-to-face courses and some online courses. The tutors are students recommended by faculty and, though every effort is made to fulfill every request, occasionally a tutor may not be available for a course. Students should also consider if Supplemental Instruction sessions (see below) are available if assistance is needed in a more timely manner or a tutor is unavailable. Students seeking these tutors are asked to visit the Tutoring and Supplemental Instruction webpage and complete a Tutor Request.

Supplemental Instruction is often provided if you are enrolled in a historically challenging class. Supplemental Instruction (SI) includes a series of review sessions, led by an SI leader, who prepares a review from each lecture the instructor gives. Students can inquire about available courses at si@cmich.edu or by visiting the Tutoring and Supplemental Instruction webpage..

Additional areas providing subject-specific tutoring opportunities include:

- The Math Assistance Center (MAC). For information, visit: cmich.edu/MAC, call 989-774-2290 or email MathAC@cmich.edu
- The Writing Center. More information can be found at: cmich.edu/Writing Center

What can students do when they are concerned about their academic performance?

Making the transition to being an academically successful university student can be difficult for even the most successful high school or community college student. Professional staff members are available in Academic Advising and Assistance, (250 Ronan Hall, 989-774-3465, advising@cmich.edu) or in the Office of Student Success (260 Ronan Hall, 989-774-3401, oss@cmich.edu) to assist all undergraduate students who have concerns about how they are doing in their classes, the effect of academic performance on their grade point average, how to study, how to read more effectively, or how to manage their time to achieve better balance between academics and other areas of their lives.

We encourage students to get to know their professors so they can more easily seek assistance when encountering difficulties. All CMU professors are required to provide an opportunity for students to meet with them during scheduled office hours. Students are expected to be proactive in visiting office hours to discuss concerns about the course. We emphasize that students who attend classes regularly and who sit in front do better, as do those who prepare and review every subject every day, even if only for 20 minutes each.

Is there a campus-wide, class attendance policy?

No, there is not a campus-wide, class attendance policy. Each instructor will share their class attendance expectations at the beginning of the semester, usually listing in the course syllabus. It is the student's responsibility to communicate directly with each individual instructor regarding absences for illness or other planned and/or unplanned attendance issues.

It is important to note that a student must begin and demonstrate participation in their course(s) by the 2nd Friday of the semester/module their course(s) falls within. Student's must remain aware of due dates and deadlines associated with their courses to ensure their participation is documented. Failure to demonstrate participation will result in an administrative drop from that course(s) and financial aid will be re-evaluated.

However, in the event your student will be absent from classes three or more days, they should contact the Division of University Engagement and Student Affairs via email at studentaffairs@cmich.edu. At that time, a courtesy email message will be sent to your student's instructors acknowledging that they have reported being away from campus for an extended period of time. This note should not be viewed as an excuse, rather a simple confirmation of what your student has shared with the Division of University Engagement and Student Affairs — it is done as a courtesy only. Attendance decisions rest solely with the instructor.

If a student experiences a death of a family member, CMU has a bereavement policy which was established to support students who encounter a tragic event that may interrupt their academic studies. To learn more, reference the Student Bereavement Policy found in the Bulletin and contact studentaffairs@cmich.edu.

THE UNIVERSITY HONORS PROGRAM

The University Honors Program provides high academic ability students with unique educational opportunities and challenges students to aim higher and achieve more meaningfully. Engagement with a vibrant Honors community, opportunities for research and creative work with top university faculty, and unique Honors coursework both on campus and around the world all help to transform Honors students' lives empowering them to help transform the world for the greater good.

Track II Honors Program Admission

The majority of Honors Program students are admitted to the Honors Program right out of high school. However, the Honors Program reserves space each year, for "Track II admits" which includes transfer students and current CMU students. If your student falls into either of these categories, and has a cumulative college GPA of 3.25 or higher, then we encourage your student to apply to the Honors Program. The current Honors Track II Application and Protocol are available online at <https://www.cmich.edu/academics/honors-program/future-students>. All accepted Track II admits must begin as a cohort in the fall semester immediately following their acceptance, and must enroll during that same fall semester, in HON 300, an introductory course to Honors, that focuses on the Honors Protocol, and senior project requirements. If you have questions about Honors Program admission please contact the Honors Program Office at 989-774-3902 or via email at honors@cmich.edu.

THE UNIVERSITY OMBUDS OFFICE

The University Ombuds Office welcomes all CMU community members. This includes students' family or other supporters. Whether meeting in-person, via telephone, or virtually — visitors will find a safe space in which to speak about a university-related question, concern, or challenge they may be experiencing. The Ombuds is a university designated neutral, who provides confidential, informal, impartial, and independent assistance. Together, you can identify available options, possible resources, and any more formal processes to consider as you seek resolution or guidance. You may contact the office at 989-774-3010 or ombuds@cmich.edu to arrange for a meeting. The office is located in Warriner Hall 214.

SARAH R. OPPERMAN LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

The Leadership Institute was established in 1997 to help Central Michigan University prepare students to serve as leaders in business, government, education, and community agencies. Since its creation, the Leadership Institute has been recognized as a national best practices program for creating student leaders. The Institute works to ensure that CMU graduates leaders; this work is guided by four overarching leadership learning goals:

1. Leadership knowledge and application
2. Identity development
3. Healthy relationships
4. Social responsibility

Co-Curricular Leadership Programs

The Leadership Institute offers a four-year leadership program sequence. Enrollment in student leadership programs is open to all Central Michigan University students. Programs include Leadership Safari, Spark Leadership, the Connections Leadership Conference, Ignite Leadership, and the LeaderShape Institute. The Leadership Institute has offices in Powers Hall 100 and Bovee University Center 201. Connect with the Leadership Institute to learn more about program offerings by calling (989) 774-LEAD, and online at cmich.edu/leadership.

MARY ELLEN BRANDELL VOLUNTEER CENTER

What is the Volunteer Center?

The Mary Ellen Brandell Volunteer Center supports students as they develop into active citizens in their community by providing community service and civic engagement opportunities and social issue education.

The Volunteer Center connects students to local, national, international, and virtual volunteer opportunities through partnerships with over 100 community organizations. We also offer on-campus volunteer events addressing a range of social issues from food insecurity, child literacy, animal welfare, and more. More information on these programs and opportunities can be found in the Engage Central portal which can be accessed from the students CentralLink.

How can students start volunteering?

It's easy! Located in the Bovee University Center, Room 106, the Volunteer Center maintains a variety of ways for students to learn about service opportunities. Students are encouraged to visit the Volunteer Center office and talk with a staff member about potential service options; they can also call us at 989-774-7685 or email volunteer.center@cmich.edu. Additionally, students can find opportunities that fit their interests and schedules on our Engage Central portal which can also be accessed from a student's CentralLink account. The Volunteer Center also posts volunteer opportunities and educational resources on Facebook, X, and Instagram (@CMUVolunteers).

What is the Student Food Pantry?

The Student Food Pantry provides supplemental food support, cleaning, and hygiene products to any CMU student experiencing food insecurity. For information on hours or to register for a distribution, please visit the CMU Student Food Pantry webpage at: www.cmich.edu/foodresources.

STUDY ABROAD

When can students start planning to study abroad?

Students are encouraged to begin planning to study or intern abroad immediately upon arrival at CMU. The annual Study Abroad Fair takes place in September and offers the opportunity right at the start of the academic year to meet program representatives and talk to students who have recently returned from abroad to learn about the many different study abroad programs.

Are there many choices?

Yes! CMU offers over 150 study sites in more than 50 countries. In addition to study programs, students may choose to intern abroad, including virtually. Faculty-led programs offer students a short-term global education experience with CMU faculty and fellow CMU students.

How can students fund study abroad?

There are affordable programs available! We have study abroad scholarships and students can continue to receive financial aid from CMU. There are more scholarships available on campus and nationally, specifically for students who study abroad.

How long can students study abroad?

It is possible to study abroad for one week during spring break, two to eight weeks in the summer, a semester or an academic year.

Do students have to speak a world language to study in a non-English-speaking country?

No. It is not necessary to speak a world language to study in a non-English-speaking country because classes are taught in English in many countries. Beginning language classes are typically offered so students will have the opportunity to learn the host country language.

Where can more information be found?

Information about all our programs is available online at studyabroad.cmich.edu.

OFFICE OF RESIDENCE LIFE

What is the campus residency policy?

Central Michigan University's campus residency policy requires that first- and second-year students live on campus. Those who reach the four-semester requirement at midyear are required to complete the full term of the contract for the academic year (fall and spring semester).

Exceptions to the policy may be granted if special circumstances are outlined, and approval is obtained, prior to the signing of the Housing Contract.

Why a second year on campus?

CMU cares about student success and student success begins with living on campus. National research shows that students who live on campus are more successful. Students who live on campus have higher grade point averages, are more satisfied with their college experience, are more engaged in co-curricular experiences, and are more likely to graduate than students who live off campus. When you live on campus, you belong to a community that supports and encourages your success. You live in close proximity to resources that are integral to student success. In addition, you will have the opportunity to develop lifelong friendships. No other housing option can provide students with this type of value.

How can my student change their meal plan?

Meal plan changes may be made with the Office of Residence Life prior to the first day of classes. After classes begin, meal plan changes may be made at the CentralCard Office by visiting www.cmucentralcard.com.

How does the room change request process work?

The Office of Residence Life is committed to providing residents a comfortable, educational, diverse and caring community where academic success, personal growth and social responsibility are valued. Research shows that living in a community with people from different backgrounds, values, personalities and interests is an integral part of the college experience.

The Office of Residence Life does not move students due to differences of race, ethnicity, religion and beliefs, sexual orientation, physical ability or any other social identity.

Guidelines for requesting a room change

- Typically, Residence Life has very few open spaces during the academic year, so the opportunity for space changes is limited and not guaranteed.
- If your student has a friend who has a vacancy in their room or apartment, and your student would like to move into that space, your student should contact the RHD of that building to request the space change along with the friend. That RHD will make the determinations, provide a timeframe for completing the move, and direct your student to check out of their current space with their current RHD.
- Approved space changes may take place beginning the third week of the semester (after two full weeks of classes).
- Space changes typically are not granted during the summer term due to our facilities' maintenance schedule.

Room changes are a last resort in dealing with roommate conflict, except in emergency situations. If your student's request is due to roommate conflict, your student will need to take these actions first:

- Upon move in, your student will complete the Roommate Agreement Workbook. This document helps facilitate discussion between all roommates and sets general guidelines for living together. For example, the division of chores and how often guests stay. Students should take time to discuss the workbook with their roommates. Doing so can help your student negotiate arrangements before differences turn into conflict.

- The student must connect with their Resident Assistant, Engagement Coordinator or Residence Hall Director (RHD) as soon as possible. They are there to assist with the on-campus living experience and can help mediate. Resolving conflict can be a positive experience. The residence hall director is always a great first stop for students with concerns!
- Your student should be sure to communicate face-to-face with this person in a manner meant to resolve conflict.

No space change will be granted until the above steps are complete.

May students decorate their living space?

Residents are welcome to make their rooms comfortable. However, due to facility restrictions and health and safety issues, there are guidelines. Drilling, sawing, or attaching items to walls, floors, or ceilings with screws, nails, glue, or other devices is not allowed. Residents may not permanently alter walls, ceilings, or floors. Posters and other combustible decorations cannot cover more than one third of a wall. Students are NOT permitted to hang anything from the ceiling piping or sprinkler heads. No paper may be taped to lights at any time in rooms or public areas. String lights may only be used for their intended purpose, not as an alternative light source. String lights must be in working condition, not modified from the manufacturer's original design and must be UL certified. Incandescent string lights are prohibited. Only LED string lights may be used. String lights are prohibited on the exterior of the living space, inclusive of the door frame and may not be wrapped around pipes or sprinklers. Self-adhesive LED strip lighting is prohibited from being attached to any of the rooms furnishings or surfaces.

Are lofts allowed in the residence halls?

Lofts are permitted but must be rented through Bedloft.com. If you decide to rent a loft, the university-provided furniture must be stored in your own residence hall room. All lofts must be disassembled and the bed reassembled two weeks before the end of the spring semester. Because the beds that are furnished in Campbell, Celani, Fabiano, Kessler and Kulhavi Halls may be lofted, students are not allowed to rent lofts. In addition, lofts are not allowed in Carey Hall because of the bed size.

Who is responsible for cleaning the living space?

Students are expected to keep their living space clean. They are responsible for taking their trash and recycling outside to the appropriate dumpsters on a regular basis. Custodians vacuum floors in common areas such as hallways, lobbies and lounges. Students are expected to pick up personal belongings in common areas.

Is storage available in residence halls?

Storage is very limited in each residence hall unit, so students may consider adding storage with small bookcases, baskets, a trunk or cartons that stack. They should plan to take seasonal clothing and bicycles home at break periods.

What size are the mattresses in the residence halls?

Mattresses in the residence halls are twin extra-long, so traditional fitted sheets will not fit. Twin extra-long sheets are available at various retail stores. Carey Hall has full extra-long mattresses.

What type of support is available in the residence halls?

The Residence Hall Director is a full-time, live-in, professional staff member responsible for the daily operations of a 250-650 bed residence hall(s). The RHD directly supervises 5-12 Resident Assistants, 1 Engagement Coordinator, and most RHD supervise a front desk operation and advise community council. The RHD is charged with developing a community that promotes engagement, learning, respect for diversity, and student success. The RHD plays an integral role in developing and implementing our residential curriculum.

Each floor has a Resident Assistant and an Engagement Coordinator per community. The Resident Assistant is an upper-class student who lives on the floor community to serve as the primary resource for the building community and fostering student learning and growth. An Engagement Coordinator is an upper-class student who, in addition to enhancing the support of students with underrepresented/marginalized identities, their role is to educate community members on topics of equity and justice and to bridge campus resources and partnerships. Paraprofessional staff play an important role in helping the Office of Residence Life achieve our educational priority, so that as a result of living on campus, residents will become empowered citizens who responsibly impact their communities.

For more information about ways you can support your student in their on-campus living experience, please visit the Housing Information for Parents and Supporters page at <https://www.cmich.edu/student-life/housing/housing-information-for-parents-and-supporters>.

What is a Student Success Center?

A Student Success Center is a location where student services professionals work as a team to help residents become successful students. A Care Advocate and Assistant Director of Residence Life are located in each success center. Community police officers are also available and visible within campus housing.

Are there visitation hours or overnight guest policies?

Members of each community council decide visitation hours at the beginning of each academic year. No overnight guests will be allowed prior to the start of classes in the fall, during the first week of fall semester, or during exam week of the fall or spring semesters.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND INVOLVEMENT

The Office of Student Activities & Involvement is home to hundreds of student organizations, fraternity and sorority life chapters, and campus wide events that promote CMU spirit, community and involvement.

Research shows that student involvement in co-curricular activities such as student organizations, leadership positions, and activities has a positive correlation with retention and academics. Because of the positive aspects of co-curricular involvement, CMU encourages students to become involved.

For all questions related to student activities and/or student organizations, please contact the Office of Student Activities and Involvement at 989-774-3016 or visit at Bovee University Center 101 or on the web at cmich.edu/sai.

What leadership opportunities exist at CMU?

There are several hundred organizations on campus with leadership positions. CMU has a strong commitment to volunteerism and community service, and many students assume leadership positions through the Volunteer Center and other community agencies. In addition, freshmen will have the opportunity to participate in a student organization fair called Mainstage during their first week on campus. This will help them obtain information and meet members of campus organizations.

How can my student get involved in fraternities or sororities?

CMU has over 25 national social and cultural fraternities and sororities. Students can attend recruitment events at the beginning of each semester. These events enable students to become acquainted with the various groups and help make their decision easier.

Most fraternities and sororities were founded on values and beliefs established in the late 1880s and early 1900s. Many promote strong moral character, high academic achievement, service to the community, fraternal bonds and personal development.

What activities are available for my student?

CMU students can get involved from their first days on campus. There are more than 350 student organizations in interest areas such as service, honors, politics, academics, religion and athletics. Students can also organize new groups that fit their own interests. A busy calendar of activities includes music concerts, performing arts productions, theater, nationally renowned speakers, athletic competitions, comedians and much more. In addition, more than 40 intramural sports are played through the University Recreation program.

Center for Inclusion and Diversity

The Center for Student Inclusion and Diversity and other campus offices offer a wide range of activities. These educational, recreational, social and cultural programs expose the campus to the contributions, cultures and history of women, ethnic minorities, LGBTQ+ community, and other under-represented individuals. Everyone, regardless of background, is invited to these programs.

STUDENT CONDUCT

Does CMU have an alcohol and drug use policy?

Yes. Only students who are of legal drinking age may have alcoholic beverages in their residence hall rooms. They cannot violate any local, state or university ordinances. Most new students will not be of legal age to consume alcohol. No one can consume or possess alcohol in open containers in lounges, recreation rooms, hallways, outdoors or in other public areas. Any student present in a room where an alcohol or controlled substance policy violation occurs will be considered in violation of university policy. The alcohol and controlled substance policy is available on the Office of Student Conduct website.

Tobacco-Free Campus

As of July 1, 2014, CMU adopted a tobacco-free campus as part of its commitment to providing a healthy environment for learning, living and working. The policy prohibits the use of any form of tobacco on campus, including traditional cigarettes, e-cigarettes, vape pens, chewing tobacco, pipes, cigars, hookahs, waterpipes, snus and snuff. We expect students, faculty, and staff to adhere to this policy.

What can parents and supporters do to assist?

Our policies on alcohol and controlled substance use are clear, and we view violations of these very strongly. We confront students and issue sanctions when we identify transgressions. Federal Law H.R. 6 allows universities to notify parents when violations occur. CMU will notify parents when students are found in violation. We encourage parents to join us in an effort to prevent incidents that might interfere with their student's academic goals and personal well-being while at CMU.

What behavior is expected of CMU students?

Students are expected to obey federal, state and local laws as well as the rules and regulations of the university. The Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities and Disciplinary Procedures establishes expectations for student behavior within the university community. This code also outlines acts on university-owned or controlled property that constitute unacceptable conduct by all students. All alleged violations of the code may result in referral to the Office of Student Conduct. The university also reserves the right to review students' off-campus conduct.

If a student is sanctioned under the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities and Disciplinary Procedures, will that action appear on his or her permanent university record?

No. A separate discipline file is maintained by the Office of Student Conduct.

Do I have access to my student's disciplinary records?

Student records are kept confidential between the student and the university. These records may not be reviewed by others without the student's permission.

Does CMU have a policy regarding discrimination and/or harassment?

Yes. CMU's Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action Protocol prohibits unlawful acts of discrimination or harassment on the basis of age, color, disability, ethnicity, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, height, marital status, national origin, political persuasion, pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions, race, religion, sex, sex-based stereotypes, sexual orientation, transgender status, veteran status, familial status, or weight by members of the university community.

Prohibited acts include discrimination or harassment in employment, education, housing, public accommodations, public services, and telecommunications. To file a complaint of harassment or discrimination, contact the Office of Civil Rights and Institutional Equity. BILLING AND EXPENSES

Electronic billing

Billing statements are issued electronically. When a new statement is available for your review, your student and any established authorized payers will receive a statement notification asking that you review your online billing statement. If you would like statement notifications sent to a non-CMU email address or a text message to your phone, go to User Preferences on the View + Pay Accounts screen. This may include (not limited to) tuition and fees, room and board, telephone, health services, bookstore, and parking charges. Bills can be paid through CentralLink at centrallink.cmich.edu via eCheck, MasterCard, American Express, Visa, or Discover.

Note that a service fee of 2.75 percent is assessed on all credit card payments. Cash and check payments can be paid in person at the Student Service Court in the Bovee University Center. Mailed payment can be submitted to: CMU Student Account Services and University Billing, UC 119, Mount Pleasant, MI 48859.

Payment plan

CMU offers an optional per semester payment plan. Enroll early for more payment options. With the assistance of a budget calculator, you will estimate the semester expenses and enroll in monthly payments. The budget and payment amount will adjust based on actual charges and credits made to your student's account. Payments are processed via electronic funds transfer from a checking or savings account or debit/credit card. If a debit/credit card is used, a service fee of 2.75 percent per transaction will be assessed. A nonrefundable enrollment fee of $25 per semester will be charged to all students enrolling in the payment plan. For information, visit cmich.edu keyword: Payment Plan.

Refunds

Refunds are issued from Central Michigan University for a variety of reasons: disbursement of financial aid, dropped courses, bookstore returns, etc. All refunds are issued electronically, utilizing BankMobile (a third-party refund processor).

For more information about BankMobile, visit: <http://bankmobiledisbursements.com/refundchoicesso/>.

Will I receive a bill for my student's tuition and course-related fees?

Central Michigan University sends all billing statements by email to the student's CMU email address in order to provide quick, convenient service and to eliminate mailing delays. Students will be responsible for accessing these monthly email messages for their account balance and payment due dates. If you would like statement notifications sent to a non-CMU email address or a text message to your phone, go to User Preferences on the View + Pay Accounts screen. Payments may be made on CentralLink (centrallink.cmich.edu), in person at the Student Service Court (Bovee University Center 119), or can be sent to: Student Account Services and University Billing, UC 119, CMU, Mt. Pleasant, MI 48859.

Failure to pay a monthly bill will result in late charges and a hold placed on the student's account, prohibiting them from registering for future terms. Students adding classes after the registration period has ended may be required to pay for their class(es) at the time they register. All information regarding billing and deadlines is available in the class schedule on the Registrar's Office website: cmich.edu/registrars and in the Billing and Expenses section of this publication.

Past due policy for fall semester only

Any student registered for a fall semester with a past due balance of $200.00 or greater will be removed from all registered courses on August 1. All students will receive prior notification of the registration removal after the July billing statements have been issued (approximately the first week in July). If past due balances are not brought current after notification is sent and before August 1, registration from courses for the fall semester will be removed.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

Are services available to help students locate jobs?

Student Employment Services in the Bovee University Center assists students with finding on- and off-campus employment opportunities. College work study, general student assistance and community job postings are available online at ses.cmich.edu. Once on the SES webpage, jobs can be found on the Career Central portal. More information is available at Student Employment Services, Bovee University Center 121, by calling 989-774-3881 or on Career Central.

Should students work during their first year? Won't employment interfere with studies and adjustment to college?

CMU research data shows that students who work on-campus jobs have higher grade point averages, graduate at a faster rate, and learn valuable job skills to include on a resume. If the student has a desire to work, they should be encouraged to do so. The average student employee actually works approximately 10 hours a week. Work assignments are scheduled before, between, and after classes to meet the needs of both students and employers. Having an on-campus job can help the student better organize his or her time, make valuable contacts, learn new skills, and adjust to the overall atmosphere of college life.

FINANCIAL AID/STUDENT LOANS

How should students apply for financial aid, and when do they receive notice of their financial aid package?

Students must apply for financial aid annually by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Students may complete and submit the FAFSA online at studentaid.gov. The 2027-28 FAFSA will be available in October. Families will use their 2025 federal tax information to complete the FAFSA.

New freshmen will be notified of their financial aid offers starting in December; returning students receive notification starting in March. All financial aid offers can be viewed on the student financial aid portal within CentralLink, along with any required documents and next steps to avoid a delayed financial aid disbursement. Students offered student loans for filing the FAFSA must take action on the loans to borrow them. Students can accept, reduce, or decline their loans in their student financial aid portal. Students that are enrolled less than full time will have their offered loans prorated based on actual enrollment.

What kind of aid is available to students?

Students who file their FAFSA will automatically be considered for all federal, state, and institutional financial aid. Aid may consist of one or more of the following: scholarships, grants, federal work-study, and student and parent loans. Merit scholarships are automatically awarded to new freshmen and transfer students who meet the academic criteria. In addition, privately endowed scholarships can be applied for through Scholarship Universe and are awarded to new and returning students based on need, academic focus, career aspirations, or other criteria. Additional information about scholarship opportunities can be found on our website at financialaid.cmich.edu.

If a student has received financial aid, when will those dollars be applied to the student's account to pay for university charges?

Processed and finalized financial aid will apply to the student's account by the first week of the semester. Please note that any changes that may occur due to a dropped course will cause already processed aid to be re-evaluated.

If financial aid exceeds charges, what happens to the extra money?

Once CMU charges have been paid by a student's financial aid, any remaining money is refunded to the student to use for other educational expenses. Students must select their refund option via the student portal within CentralLink.

Do students need to demonstrate participation in a course to receive financial aid?

For financial aid eligibility purposes, it is important that students begin participation in their course. Participation is defined as active engagement in the instructional activity related to the course of study. For example, this could mean attending a lecture where interaction between the instructor or students occurs or through handing in homework, taking a quiz, or posting information/comments on the course web platform. Participation is not merely just logging into the online platform and not engaging. Students must remain aware of the due dates and deadlines associated with their courses. If a student does not participate in their course by the 2nd Friday of the respective term/module, the student will be administratively dropped, and financial aid will be re-evaluated, which may impact eligibility. Per federal regulations, an institution must document that a student began participation in their course(s) for the purpose of establishing financial aid eligibility.

What is the Courses and Program of Study Eligibility policy? How do I know if a course is "on/off program" and eligible for aid?

In accordance with federal regulation, students are eligible to receive federal financial aid only for coursework that applies toward the completion of their officially declared academic program. Courses that fulfill program completion for the officially declared academic program will be counted toward the enrollment status used for federal and/or state financial aid eligibility. Should questions arise about course eligibility, the student's Academic Advisor should be consulted.

Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid

A student's primary resource regarding scholarships and financial aid should be their student portal and CMU email account as this is where important communications from the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid (OSFA) will be directed. For remaining questions, financial aid advisors are available to assist you with your financial aid questions in several modalities. Appointments are offered Monday through Friday, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. by phone, in-person (Warriner 202), or virtually (MS Teams).

When calling our office, please have your student ID handy, this will allow us to better assist you. You can find your student ID in CentralLink under "My Profile".
