UNDERGRADUATE TRANSFER STUDENT
REQUEST TO FOLLOW AN EARLIER BULLETIN

Bulletin used to Determine Graduation Requirements
A CMU student normally follows the bulletin for the year he/she started at CMU. Our policy also allows you to follow an earlier bulletin. The policy states graduation requirements for a baccalaureate degree are based on the regulations and requirements printed in the Central Michigan University Bulletin in effect at the time of a student’s initial registration at a regionally accredited two- or four-year college or university or from a foreign university or college approved by the government or the official regulating agency of the country in which the college or university is located. A Bulletin published after initial registration may be chosen if it is to your benefit (please discuss with your advisor). The time limitation on this provision is that no student may graduate under the requirements of a Bulletin published more than seven calendar years prior to the date of graduation.

For example, you may elect to follow the 2013-14 bulletin if both of the following criteria are met:

1) You attended a 2-year or 4-year institution during the 2013-14 academic year before transferring to CMU.

2) You attended this institution after graduating from high school.
