February 2015

New Exhibit Opening Soon

The Clarke’s newest exhibit, Antiquarianists of Children’s Books: Celebrating 200 years will be on view from February 19 - May 16. The exhibit will highlight books written or illustrated by some of the greatest figures in the field of children’s literature. On February 19, before the exhibit opens to the public, a presentation by Professor Susan Stan will open the Park Library Auditorium. Professor Stan is an interdisciplinary scholar who approaches literature through a variety of lenses. In this blog entry she talks about the excitement of the upcoming exhibit and the opportunity to meet Professor Stan’s at the opening event.

Winners of the 2014 MDNGP Grant

Congratulations to Milford, the winner of the Michigan Digital Newspaper Grant Program for 2014! They had the most votes and will receive a grant to digitize newspapers from the Clarke Historical Library. The Clarke Historical Library is here to help those students with any information about CMU that they might be in search of.

CMU History Class

We think that knowing the history of your campus is important, and so does Professor Jay Martin, who is leading a class on CMU history. The Clarke Historical Library is here to help you understand the pre-colonial and public U.S. education at the time.

Spring Break Hours

CMU President Hope May will present "CMU President E.C. Warriner and his involvement in the development of Milford as one of Henry Ford’s cottage industries, and the development of the auto industry". The lecture will be held in the Park Library on March 24th at 7:00 pm. This is an excellent opportunity to understand the history of your campus and the impact of CMU on the region.

Winner of the 2014 MDNGP Grant

Milford Wins MDNGP

Milford, Sault St. Marie, and Traverse City cast a total of 27,657 votes to the winning books recently donated by CMU professor Carrie Jackson Rowe.

On February 20th, the Clarke will partner with CMU’s Department of English Language and Literature. Professor Stan will present a lecture on the theme of graphic novels. This exciting event will be held in the Park Library on February 20th at 7:00 pm.

Some new additions on the Clarke’s new exhibit, Antiquarianists of Children’s Books: Celebrating 200 years will be on view from February 19 - May 16. The exhibit will highlight books written or illustrated by some of the greatest figures in the field of children’s literature.

We are pleased to announce that the Spring Break hours have been released. Please visit this link for the updated hours.

New on the Blog

In addition to Professor Martin’s presentation, we have many other visiting speakers lined up this semester.

Spring Speaker Series

February 2015

On February 19th, before the exhibit opens to the public, a presentation by Professor Susan Stan will open the Park Library Auditorium. Professor Stan is an interdisciplinary scholar who approaches literature through a variety of lenses. In this blog entry she talks about the excitement of the upcoming exhibit and the opportunity to meet Professor Stan’s at the opening event.

Winner of the 2014 MDNGP Grant

Milford Wins MDNGP

Milford, Sault St. Marie, and Traverse City cast a total of 27,657 votes to the winning books recently donated by CMU professor Carrie Jackson Rowe.

On February 20th, the Clarke will partner with CMU’s Department of English Language and Literature. Professor Stan will present a lecture on the theme of graphic novels. This exciting event will be held in the Park Library on February 20th at 7:00 pm.

Some new additions on the Clarke’s new exhibit, Antiquarianists of Children’s Books: Celebrating 200 years will be on view from February 19 - May 16. The exhibit will highlight books written or illustrated by some of the greatest figures in the field of children’s literature.

We are pleased to announce that the Spring Break hours have been released. Please visit this link for the updated hours.

New on the Blog

In addition to Professor Martin’s presentation, we have many other visiting speakers lined up this semester.

Spring Speaker Series

February 2015

On February 19th, before the exhibit opens to the public, a presentation by Professor Susan Stan will open the Park Library Auditorium. Professor Stan is an interdisciplinary scholar who approaches literature through a variety of lenses. In this blog entry she talks about the excitement of the upcoming exhibit and the opportunity to meet Professor Stan’s at the opening event.

Winner of the 2014 MDNGP Grant

Milford Wins MDNGP

Milford, Sault St. Marie, and Traverse City cast a total of 27,657 votes to the winning books recently donated by CMU professor Carrie Jackson Rowe.

On February 20th, the Clarke will partner with CMU’s Department of English Language and Literature. Professor Stan will present a lecture on the theme of graphic novels. This exciting event will be held in the Park Library on February 20th at 7:00 pm.

Some new additions on the Clarke’s new exhibit, Antiquarianists of Children’s Books: Celebrating 200 years will be on view from February 19 - May 16. The exhibit will highlight books written or illustrated by some of the greatest figures in the field of children’s literature.

We are pleased to announce that the Spring Break hours have been released. Please visit this link for the updated hours.

New on the Blog

In addition to Professor Martin’s presentation, we have many other visiting speakers lined up this semester.

Spring Speaker Series

February 2015

On February 19th, before the exhibit opens to the public, a presentation by Professor Susan Stan will open the Park Library Auditorium. Professor Stan is an interdisciplinary scholar who approaches literature through a variety of lenses. In this blog entry she talks about the excitement of the upcoming exhibit and the opportunity to meet Professor Stan’s at the opening event.

Winner of the 2014 MDNGP Grant

Milford Wins MDNGP

Milford, Sault St. Marie, and Traverse City cast a total of 27,657 votes to the winning books recently donated by CMU professor Carrie Jackson Rowe.

On February 20th, the Clarke will partner with CMU’s Department of English Language and Literature. Professor Stan will present a lecture on the theme of graphic novels. This exciting event will be held in the Park Library on February 20th at 7:00 pm.

Some new additions on the Clarke’s new exhibit, Antiquarianists of Children’s Books: Celebrating 200 years will be on view from February 19 - May 16. The exhibit will highlight books written or illustrated by some of the greatest figures in the field of children’s literature.

We are pleased to announce that the Spring Break hours have been released. Please visit this link for the updated hours.