CMU Course Reserves

The purpose of the reserve system is to provide controlled access to assigned readings in support of course instruction.

Dining In

Traditional Reserves: You are invited to select books & DVDs from the Libraries collection to place on Reserve or you may drop off personal copies of books/DVDs that you own. We will process the reserve requests and your students may come and check out the material. Reference books and materials from the Clarke Historical Library may not be placed on reserve.

You Pick’em: We offer 2 hour, 1 day, 3 day and 1 week loan periods. You pick!

Online Ordering

Submit your course reserve request to us by emailing us at: coursereserves@cmich.edu or submit an online web-form, found on our website: https://library.cmich.edu/forms.reserves/

Please be sure to include:
- Whether the material is for Traditional Reserve or Blackboard eReserves
- Course Name (ENG 201)
- The CRN/EPN, semester citations for your requested material and indicate if your class is on campus, off campus, or online.
  (You may also drop by our desk and fill out the form.)

Copyright Permissions are sometimes required. We will do our best to secure permissions for your material when it arises. Please be aware that rights holders may take 6-12 weeks or longer to work out the details of granting permissions. The sooner you get your requests to us the faster we are able to contract the rights holders. In the case of streaming films, the Libraries must own the DVD in our collection. We will be required to secure digitization rights from the rights holders – it is the rights holders decision on whether or not they grant permission.
